INTRO

Welcome to the State of Synth! I'm Groot! And I'm Fawkes! We are joined tonight by the awesome NewRetroWave artists Wolfclub!

Top Story (Dennis)

New Video Game Based on the Turbo Kid Movie in Development. The post apocalyptic movie has been a fan favorite by some many of us for many years now and now the adventures of the kid will now live on in game form. With a little more on the story we now turn you to everybody's favorite Caffeinated correspondent Kitty Caboodle!

SKIT

Hey groot! Le Matos has kindly let us play one of the tracks from their Rise of Turbo Kid promo EP

🎵 Le Matos - Rise of Turbo Kid (from RoTK promo EP) (quebec)

Cool stuff! Can't wait! It looks like Excite Bike, but with gore and guns! Speaking of synthy retro games, let's remind the users about Street Cleaner The Video Game, as well as Narita Boy. Check out our prior episodes to hear from the folks who created the music for those.

Shoutout to the chats

This Just In:

Google has created a brief history of synths on their Arts and Culture page. It outlines the history of the synth, features docs and knowledge about the major players, and has a virtual synth room where you can learn about synths, and play with them.

Did you know that in 1895, the first synth was invented? The Telharmonium. 200 tons, 60 ft. I wonder if Scandroid has one of those?

"Hidden Sun" is the second song off of Parallels upcoming fifth studio album, to be released later this year. Written during the first week of lockdown in 2020, "Hidden Sun" captures the sweeping moods of being on a stormy planet waiting for the sun to come
