Intro Music....record scratch...ACY Intro

(Fade out a bit as ACY plays)

Welcome to our season one final encore Episode of The State of Synth...I'm your host Dennis G (and I'm Neon Fawkes). My basement is currently flooded, but our hearts and the show will still go on.

Jules: Dennis...it's up to my knees now

Dennis: Don't worry about it...let's keep going

Jules: But Dennis.... Uh...OK

Dennis: Tonight we are featuring lots of music with premieres from the Fighter Jets and Levinsky, as well as details about the Retro Reverb charity album and launch party.

Fade back in until end of ACY

Dennis: That rendition of the Titanic theme song was brought to you by Alpha Chrome Yayo, one of the most talented artists in the scene. We thank him dearly for whipping out a song while the show sinks into the sunset.

Before going on, we have so much music tonight, we'll kick it off with this collaboration from Neon Arcadia and Tom Selica. We've played it before, but this track needs to be heard again. Two groups of talented artists teamed up for this song. This is "Cruise Control" here on Nightride.FM

Top Story (Dennis)

Since this is an encore presentation, let's talk about what we are having for dinner.

Dennis: blah blah

Jules: blah blah

Jules: Speaking of top story, tell me Dennis...do your socks match right now?

Dennis: Blah Blah

Dennis: Alright...moving on....

Jules: Tonight, we are pleased to premiere a brand new song from Fighter Jets, a band out of Los Angeles (originally from San Francisco). We've had the pleasure of playing their music before. They've been featured on Vehlinggo as well. An amazing synth band with awesome shred too. This song is called "Alone in our Rooms", and you are hearing it first, here on Nightride.FM!

In Other News (Dennis)

Dr. Disrespect has been banned (most likely temporarily) from Twitch for filming himself in a bathroom at E3 (which is against the law in California). While his persona is a bit brash, his programming is a great boon to synthwave artists when their music is featured in his Twitch streams and Youtube videos. Let's hope he gets back online. His Youtube video of E3 features music from Mitch Murder.

Let's listen to a fresh track from Boston artist Forhill. He just released this on June 4th This is "Refractions" on Nightride.FM

Forhill - Refractions

That was "Refractions" by Forhill.

Jules: And guess what? He's given us a whack of bandcamp codes to share with you fine folk for his album "Figments". We'll rattle off a couple now, paste some in the IRC chat, and share them via Twitter after the show. Redeem at <https://forhill.bandcamp.com/yum>

Dennis: Like we said...this encore episode is chock full of music, so let's jump right into Neon Fawkes song of the week...

NEON Fawkes Song of the Week (Jules)

For this encore episode, I want to play an awesome track that came out last winter by Best Korea. They are from Montana, and these boys are talented. I'm hoping they drop more tunes this year. This song is called "Iron Lung", and it features voice clips from the 1953 movie "Glen or Glenda". Here's "Iron Lung" by Best Korea, here on Nightride.FM

Best Korea - Iron Lung
